To COLD SMOKE, place the Barbecook spiral cold smoke generator in a Barbecook smoker. Fill the coil with smoke chips and let it smoulder with a tea light. The smoking process takes from four to seven hours. Note: cold smoking does not cook the food. It will keep a little longer and get a delicious smoky flavour.

Are you a man who's in the moment? Then HOT SMOKING might be more your thing. Because of the higher temperature your smoking time will be shorter and food will be done faster. Hot smoking requires a smoker, some charcoal starter and some smoke chips.

SPARE PARTS online shop

Good news! Through our website, it is possible for end consumers to order parts.

To get you on track, we are happy to offer an answer to possible questions:

// Do we, as a shop, still act as an intermediary?

Yes and no, you can order parts via www.barbecook.com, but you can still go through the shop. You can always refer the consumer to our website. This makes your job easier and makes it easier to help the end consumer.

// What about replacements under warranty?

The new online shop only covers spare parts that are out of warranty. If end consumers order spare parts under warranty, they must still come to the shop with proof of purchase. Via the existing procedure using the Barbecook Partner Pages, you can submit a request as the point-of-purchase.

// Do we now also order parts via the online shop?

No. The online shop was launched for the end consumer. The prices are also end consumer prices. If you wish to order a spare part as a shop manager, you can still do that via our Partner Pages.

// How does the online shop work exactly?

Through the Spare Parts section on the website the end consumer can order the parts desired. It is necessary to create a MyBarbecook account. If customers also register their equipment here, they can quickly and easily order their desired components via MyBarbecook.
